There is an End for Every Spy

The raids carried out by the makers of the epic battles in Iraq on the dens of spies were not the first of their kind. These raids, however, caused a bigger echo than their counterparts this time, for many reasons related to the tense reality of the Rafidi mushrikin, regardless of their different fighting components, which started exchanging accusations among themselves of negligence, failure, and even treason. And this is what happens after every slap they receive from the soldiers of the Islamic State.

Some of them accused the Rafidi army and government forces of failing to provide security in the areas they claimed to have previously "secured." Others accused the Rafidi militias of the same and demanded their removal from the areas and their replacement. The latter accused the spies themselves of treason and complicity. Amidst all this, the mujahidin alone were the victorious in this battle, and all praise is due to Allah.

The internal strife in the Rafidi stance regarding the recent attacks was not limited to the government, militias, and parties, but also applied to the followers of the Rafida and their members, who publicly declared their loss of confidence in the government, the army, and all the militias.

Striking at the confidence between the Rafidi components and their allies is one of the fruits of these successful covert raids carried out by the mujahidin units in the midst of the homeland of spies. These spies sold their religion cheaply and live their lives awaiting death whenever darkness falls upon them, until death take them while they are inside their homes and on their beds, as the mujahidin promised them before.

Spies are a dagger in the back of Muslims throughout the ages. And if armies are the hands of brutal tawaghit, spies are their watchful eyes. And just as it is necessary to cut off those hands that violate Muslims, so must the treacherous eyes that are spying on them be plucked out.

Since its inception, the Islamic State has fought spies in every way to which the Shari'ah guided them, using words and swords. Its media library is full of videos, audios, and texts that warn and explain the danger of spies and the magnitude of their crime and ill punishment. The leaders and shaykhs of the Islamic State have paid great attention to this aspect and given it a wide space in their words and speeches over the past years, and they have warned against falling into the swamp of spying for the benefit of murtaddin, and threatened them with death wherever they are, and warn them that the losing consequence of their command will not be different from those who preceded them if they did not repent.

The Wilayat media offices showed dozens of video releases documenting the crimes by spies against Muslims and how they were the cause of the destruction of homes above the heads of their inhabitants, the loss of hundreds of souls and lives, and the violation of many honors. The mujahidin media has showed the consequences of those involve themselves in this, whether to their religion or their Akhira. Their messages confirmed the acceptance of the repentance of those who repented of them before being captured.

Nevertheless, spies refuse but to be shoes and donkeys for the armies of riddah, and as servants and aides to them. They take them as their allies instead of the believers and help them in their war against Islam and Muslims. Allah says: "You see many of them becoming allies of those who disbelieved. How wretched is that which they have put forth for themselves in that Allah has become angry with them, and in the punishment they will abide eternally" (Al-Ma'ida: 80). And He says: "Those who take disbelievers as allies instead of the believers. Do they seek with them honor [through power]? But indeed, honor belongs to Allah entirely" (An-Nisa: 139).

The crimes of murtadd spies and their fighting against the muwahhidin are not limited to the land of Iraq, but they seek corruption and destruction wherever they go. And the soldiers of the Khilafah are sparing no effort in their fight against them, and taking revenge on them, where the news of their capturing and beheading in the Wilayat of Iraq, Sham, Khurasan, Pakistan, Sinai and others become periodic news, and all praise is du to Allah

No matter how much these murtaddin and those standing behind them try to hide from the eyes of the mujahidin, their fate, by Allah's permission, will not differ from their peers whose breaths were suppressed, whose necks were struck, and their limbs cut off. They are waiting their turn on the waiting lists set up by hunters of spies.

In this regard, we must remember the words of the Muhajir Shaykh Abu Hamza al-Qurashi (may Allah preserve him), the official spokesman of the Islamic State, who said in warning:

"As for our message to some of the tribes and personnel, who have been proven to be involved in assisting the army and police force of the apostate governments and parties, either by fighting the muwahhidin or by providing information about the muwahhidin and their chaste women, we tell them: do you think your vileness and espionage with pass with no reckoning? Or are you, in your stupor and blindness, unconcerned with your punishment? In front of you is a long bill, and you know good and well that the soldiers of the Khilafah do not sleep upon injustice, by the permission of Allah, sooner or later we will come to you. You are more keen on life than others. So what is the matter with you that you wage war on us! Why are you standing in our line of fire! Save yourselves before it is too late. For the loser is the one who wants to try what has be tested before and sells his akhirah for the dunya of another. The happy one takes a warning from others besides himself. Thus, beware of supporting the tawaghit, and the parties and factions of apostasy. Do not any of you think or delude themselves that we are far away from you, or that we will not know about your evil actions if he attempts to harm us or stands in our way. Know that the list of your names reaches us from the good people among you who are keen upon their din and akhirah. You do not know at which hour the silencers of the muwahhidin will strike you; so wake from your slumber and your dreams and keep your sons away from the paths of apostasy. Repent to your Lord."

Therefore, to the spies everywhere, we say: Repent before we are able to capture you, and know that the governments and armies of riddah that lured you and recruited you were unable, and all praise is due to Allah, to protect themselves and their soldiers. So how can they protect you?

And the mujahidin who raided the likes of you in their own homes will be able to reach your necks, by Allah's permission. Thus, consider and remember that there is an end for every spy sooner or later. "And Allah is predominant over His affair, but most of the people do not know" (Yusef: 21) All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of all creation.
